Dear God, we pray that you bless our children. They come with their hearts full of hope for a school year that will promise them a learning environment full of safety, health, and happiness, while including the friendship and camaraderie of their classmates. As they embark on their new journey this school year, order their steps with energy, and guide them in perseverance to follow your lead. Today, and in the days to come, hold them fast, and surround their hearts in your abiding and abounding love.
